Territorial Acknowledgement & Statement of Inclusion

We acknowledge that many of the staff, faculty and students in the Master of Counselling Program at City University in Canada live, work and study on the traditional territory of the [List Specific Nations] First Nations in [Campus Location].

CityU honours human diversity in all its forms and is committed to the principle of universal human dignity. We further acknowledge that our learning community is greatly enriched through the voices and perspectives of staff, faculty, and students from all intersections of society including LGBTQ+, BIPOC and diversely-abled communities.

Course Description

This course offers an introduction to the theory, ethics and practice of counselling diverse populations. Students will critically analyze the sociocultural context of counselling and the influence of both counsellor and systemic bias on case conceptualization and treatment planning. Therapeutic cultural competence is developed through rigorous exploration of students' culture-bound identities, experiences, values, and beliefs. Topics examined include culture, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, intersectionality, power, privilege, and ethics. Note: This course may not be challenged or taken as an Independent Learning Contract (ILC).

Consideration of Social Justice Issues

City University in Canada is committed to social justice, access, and inclusion. Throughout their studies in the Master of Counselling Program, students are invited to reflect on a range of social justice questions as follows:

- How does identity show up in the counselling process, and how does the counsellor contribute to the possibility of identity showing up in the counselling session?
- What are some of the visible and invisible barriers that are in place for people that are trying to access support services, but fall outside of the dominant Canadian cultural context?
- How does language influence the counselling experience from both the counsellor and client point of view, and what can we do to address these considerations in the counselling experience?

Course Resources

Course Outcomes

In this course, students...

- Critically analyze patriarchal, hetero-normal, ethnocentric, and systemic discrimination and inequity practices in relation to counselling theory and practice
- Assess the impact of the bi-cultural transition process (e.g. Aboriginal norms, immigration transitions, refugee populations)
- Assess the impact of personal values, belief systems, and philosophies on counsellor/client relationships and interactions
- Evaluate the relationship between power and oppression within the context of therapeutic practice

Additional Information

Core concepts/knowledge/skills.

- Ethics and standards of culturally competent counselling
- Indigenous healing theories and practices, and liberation psychologies
- Influence of culture-bound values, beliefs, philosophies, and perspectives
- Sociocultural/political context of therapeutic practices

Grading Scale

The grades earned for the course will be calculated using City University of Seattle's decimal grading system, found in the current University Catalog (<https://www.cityu.edu/catalog/>).

| | | | | |
|--------------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|-----------------------------|-----------------------|
| Scale | 100.00 – 92.00 | 91.99-82.00 | 81.99 – 75.00 | 74.99 – 0.00 |
| Decimal Grade Equivalent | 4.0 – 3.7 | 3.6 – 2.7 | 2.6 – 2.0 | 1.9 - 0.0 |
| | Exceeds Standard | At Standard | Approaching Standard | Below Standard |

Grading rubrics with details on how each assignment will be graded are located under Assignments and/or in My Grades in the online course menu. Students should review the rubric for each assignment prior to completing their work in order to understand how it will be assessed.

Course Assignments and Grading

The grades earned for the course will be derived using CityU's decimal grading system, based on the following:

| Overview of Required Assignments | % of Final Grade |
|--|-------------------------|
| Self-Assessment of Cultural Group Membership | 30% |
| Peer-Review Group Report | 10% |
| Group Presentation/Project | 20% |
| Instructor Determined Assignment | 40% |
| Total | 100% |

Course Assignment Details

Self-Assessment of Cultural Group Membership

In this assignment, students will educate themselves about the culture within which they are primarily and most intensely immersed (e.g., indigenous woman, graduate student, mother of two children, living in an indigenous community; a heterosexual male graduate student etc.). The outcome of this personal cultural exploration will be a paper describing the impact of students' cultural heritage on their values, beliefs, politics, and philosophy of life. Students' papers will consider the following questions:

1. What aspects of personality, values, and beliefs have emerged as a result of their cultural group membership?
2. How have family systems influenced their cultural group identity?
3. How does their cultural group membership influence their relationships?
4. How have the norms of the dominant culture of their country influenced their development?
5. How might their cultural group membership impact their clients' perceptions of them (i.e., transference)?
6. How might their cultural group membership impact their perceptions of their clients (i.e., countertransference)?

This paper must be eight to 10 pages, double-spaced, using a minimum of 5 - 8 peer-reviewed sources from the past 5 years. APA formatting and citations are mandatory as the failure to cite sources appropriately constitutes plagiarism.

| Grading Criteria | Grade Points |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------|
| Organization and Coherence | 10 Points |
| Evidence and Support | 20 Points |
| Analysis and use of Course Concepts | 20 Points |
| Professional Ethics | 20 Points |
| Cultural Competence | 20 Points |
| Self-reflection | 10 Points |
| Total | 100 Points |

Peer Review Group Report

Peer review is a core academic activity in which colleagues support one another's professional development by offering feedback on each other's scholarly work. Working in small groups, students will provide classmates with feedback on one assignment addressing the following questions:

- 1) What did we appreciate about one another's work?
- 2) What did we find challenging about one another's work?
- 3) What changes did we recommend to improve one another's work?

Students will report on their learning in the form of a traditional 3 - 4 page, APA paper or in an alternative format such as blogging, podcasts, Wikis, expressive arts etc.

| Grading Criteria | Grade Points |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Organization and Coherence | 10 Points |
| Evidence and Support | 20 Points |
| Analysis and use of Course Concepts | 20 Points |
| Evaluating Information | 20 Points |
| Self-reflection | 20 Points |
| APA | 10 Points |
| Total | 100 Points |

Group Presentation/Project

In small groups, students will present on a topic approved by the instructor. The information presented will focus on increasing students' clinical competence in counselling. Presentations will be 45 – 60 minutes in length, exploring a range of topics including: 1) clinical concepts; 2) treatment issues; 3) ethical considerations; 4) diversity/intersectionality; 5) therapist countertransference etc.

Students are encouraged to explore a range of presentation modalities including Powerpoint slides, spoken word poetry, dramatic skits, animation, monologues, videos, storytelling, music, dance, improv, collage, scrapbooking, story boarding, sculpture, quilting, papier-mâché, mandalas, painting, drawing, puppetry etc.

| Grading Criteria | Grade Points |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Organization and Coherence | 10 Points |
| Evidence and Support | 20 Points |
| Analysis and use of Course Concepts | 20 Points |
| Professional Ethics | 20 Points |
| Cultural Competence | 20 Points |
| Oral Presentation | 10 Points |
| Total | 100 Points |

Instructor Determined Assignment

Students will complete an Instructor Determined Assignment integrating their understanding of course concepts through critical reflection and effective application to counselling settings.

| Grading Criteria | Grade Points |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------|
| Organization and Coherence | 10 Points |
| Evidence and Support | 20 Points |
| Analysis and use of Course Concepts | 20 Points |
| Professional Ethics | 20 Points |
| Cultural Competence | 20 Points |
| APA | 10 Points |
| Total | 100 Points |

Course Policies

Late Assignments

Graduate students are expected to submit all assignments by the due dates stated in the syllabus. A late assignment is one that is submitted after the due date and time or after any extension has expired.

If circumstances prevent a student from meeting the due date, students should contact the instructor and request an extension at least 48 hours prior to the date the assignment is due. Emergency situations will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Being busy, pressured with outside work, or having competing academic commitments are not usually considered valid reasons to receive extensions.

A student who receives an extension in advance of the due date and abides by the agreement with the instructor is not subject to late penalties. The guideline for late penalties is a deduction of one point per day from the overall grade for the first 10 days and 5 points per day after 10 days. Instructors may vary these guidelines in response to the specific conditions and requirements of each course. In the absence of an alternative announced by the Instructor the default policy is the general guideline cited above. Assignments may be re-written only with the express consent of the Instructor and under exceptional circumstances.

Participation

All MC courses encourage active engagement in discussion, dialogue, role plays and similar exercises in order to receive the maximum educational benefits. Participation includes constructive criticism and the negotiation of different perspectives and ideas. Recognizing that there are many forms of participation a range of forms and styles are welcomed. Active engagement means being attentive. Similarly, it is recognized that there are situations in which learning to hold one's counselor to not participate verbally are valuable learning experiences.

Consistent attendance and a willingness to be actively involved in classroom discussions, small group activities, and at times classroom presentations or role plays assists in creating a vibrant learning community.

Many MC courses include a participation component and, in some cases, assignments specify that participation will be graded. In such cases the criteria for participation will be made known along with the requirements for grade achievement.

Professional Writing

Assignments require error-free writing that uses standard English conventions and logical flow of organization to address topics clearly, completely, and concisely. CityU requires the use of APA style.

University Policies

Students are responsible for understanding and adhering to all of CityU's academic policies. The most current versions of these policies can be found in the University Catalog that is linked from the CityU Web site.

Non-Discrimination & Prohibition of Sexual Harassment

City University of Seattle, its staff and its faculty are deeply committed to supporting our students. We value equity, diversity, and inclusion as a way of life as well as for the educational opportunities it provides. CityU will not tolerate any form of discrimination based on race, color, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identification, socioeconomic status, or religious values. Any student who has experienced discrimination based on the above criteria is encouraged to report this to the University. Students may report an experience of discrimination to their course instructor. If they do not feel safe reporting to their instructor, students may report an experience of discrimination directly to the university Provost or the Vice President of Student Affairs.

CityU adheres to all federal, state, and local civil rights laws prohibiting discrimination in employment and education. The University is committed to ensuring that the education environment is bounded by standards of mutual respect and safety and is free from discriminatory practices.

In the U.S., the University is required by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 to ensure that all of its education programs and activities do not discriminate on the basis of sex/gender. Sex include sex, sex stereotypes, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, and pregnancy or parenting status. Sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, and stalking are forms of sex discrimination, which are prohibited under Title IX and by CityU policy. CityU also prohibits retaliation against any person opposing discrimination or participating in any discrimination investigation or complaint process internal or external to the institution. Questions regarding Title IX, including its application and/or concerns about noncompliance, should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator. For a complete copy of the policy or for more information, visit <https://my.cityu.edu/titleix> or contact the Title IX Coordinator.

In Canada, in compliance with the British Columbia Human Rights Code, the Alberta Human Rights Act, WorksafeBC, and the Workers' Compensation Board of Alberta, the University believes that its environment should at all times be supportive and respectful of the dignity and self-esteem of individuals. Discrimination, harassment and bullying conduct, whether through person to person behaviour or via electronic communications such as email or social media is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. As an educational institution, it is our responsibility to cultivate an environment of excellence, equity, mutual respect and to recognize the value and potential of every individual. The University will take all necessary steps to meet or exceed the requirements of the law to prevent discrimination, harassment and bullying. The Respectful Workplace Policy for the prevention of discrimination, harassment and bullying policy and procedure can be found at <https://www.cityu.edu/discover-cityu/about-cityu/> under the Policies section or at <https://www.cityuniversity.ca/about/>.

Religious Accommodations

CityU has a policy for accommodation of student absences or significant hardship due to reasons of faith or conscience, or for organized religious activities. The University's policy, including more information about how to request an accommodation, is available in the University Catalog and on the my.cityu.edu student portal. Accommodations must be requested by the 20% mark of this course (e.g. day 14 of a ten-week course, day 7 of a 5-week course) using the Religious Accommodations Request Form found on the student dashboard in the my.cityu.edu student portal.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity in students requires the pursuit of scholarly activity that is free from fraud, deception and unauthorized collaboration with other individuals. Students are responsible for understanding CityU's policy on academic integrity and adhering to its standards in meeting all course requirements. A complete copy of this policy can be found in the University Catalog under Student Rights and Responsibilities on the page titled Academic Integrity Policy.

Attendance

Students taking courses in any format at the University are expected to be diligent in their studies and attend class regularly. Regular class attendance/contact is important in achieving learning outcomes in the course and correlates in many cases with participation. As such it may be a valid consideration in determining the final grade. At the beginning of each course, the instructor will inform students of the relevance of class attendance/contact to the final grade.

Attendance in this class is vital to learning the required course material and demonstrates professionalism and respect for fellow students and the instructor. All students are required to attend every class for the full duration of the class. Arriving late or leaving early will constitute an unexcused absence. It is expected that students who will not be attending or who will be arriving late notify the instructor before class starts.

Excused absences are limited to ILLNESS OR EMERGENCY. Absences related to illness may require verification from a medical doctor. All other absences will be considered unexcused.

In the event of inclement weather, students will be notified by a CityU representative and / or faculty of site closures. As student and faculty safety is a priority, students who feel that driving conditions are unsafe will be permitted an excused absence without penalty. Students are responsible for notifying the instructor before class starts that they will not be attending class due to inclement weather.

Students with more than 2 unexcused absences will be directed to meet with the local Program Director to discuss continued participation in the course. 3% of students' overall course grade will be deducted for each unexcused absence.

A complete copy of CityU's policy can be found in the University Catalog under Student Rights and Responsibilities on the page titled Attendance.

Final Assignment Due Date

Final assignments for each class at CityU must be due on or before the final date of the course as indicated in the university's course information system. Due dates that extend beyond the final date of the course may negatively impact tuition funding for students.

Support Services

Disability Services Accommodations Statement

Students with a documented disability who wish to request academic accommodations are encouraged to contact Disability Support Services to discuss accommodation requests and eligibility requirements. Please contact Disability Support Services at disability@cityu.edu or 206.239.4752 or visit the Disability Support Services page in the my.cityu.edu portal. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries. Once approved, information about academic accommodations will be shared with course instructors.

Library Services

CityU librarians are available to help students find the resources and information they need to succeed in this course. Contact a CityU librarian through the Ask a Librarian service, or access library resources and services online, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Smarthinking Tutoring

CityU students have 24/7 access to free online tutoring offered through Smarthinking, including writing support from certified tutors. Contact CityU's Student Support Center at mycityusupport@cityu.edu to request a username and password.

Master of Counselling's Professional Code (2.0)

In addition to City University's general student code of conduct located in the Registrar's City U Calendar, counselling students are further expected to conduct themselves in a manner that is consistent with the core values of the profession they are entering. Students will be encouraged to adopt the following behaviours and are accountable to their peers, faculty, and CityU to sincerely undertake the development of these hallmarks of maturity:

1. Respect the dignity of classmates, faculty, and administrators without prejudice in all forms of behaviour and communication in matters of race, religion, skin colour, ethnicity, gender, orientation, physical presentation, age, ancestry or birthplace. This includes, but is not limited to, standing up against and/or reporting behaviours such as bullying, scapegoating, gossip, slander etc.
2. Maintain a positive approach to managing course-related, administrative, or relationship challenges in line with the core values of the profession. This includes, but is not limited to, directly approaching specific individuals regarding concerns of note and attempting to collaborate and independently problem-solve prior to involving faculty or administrators in the matter. Students who feel unable to independently resolve the issue should seek the support of cohort representatives, faculty, or staff.
3. Demonstrate exemplary personal conduct consistent with the values of the profession including integrity, accountability, reflexivity, generosity, compassion, inclusiveness, honesty, courage, maturity, thoughtfulness, good judgment, patience, and fairness. Demonstrate a commitment to modelling the standards and ethics of the counselling profession in all aspects of personal conduct in both the university and community at large.
4. Access City University's campuses or resources ONLY with approval from an authorized representative of the university.
5. Recognize that students with formal academic accommodations are expected to meet the same academic standards as their peers with the help of additional supports and reasonable, penalty free extensions.
6. Recognize that consistent face-to-face and online class attendance is a basic, non-negotiable requirement of the program and that the program's attendance policies will be enforced without exception. Students who are absent for any reason are required to make up all instructional hours and assignments at the discretion of the instructor.
7. Ensure that all requests for assignment extensions (with and without accommodations) are submitted to faculty a minimum of 48 hours in advance of the assignment due date. Extensions may not be granted after assignment due dates have passed.
8. Respect and behave in accordance with the appropriate professional boundaries inherent in faculty, administrative, and evaluative roles.
9. As an ambassador for the City University program, conduct themselves in a manner that strengthens the reputation of the profession, one's peers, and the program.
10. Actively develop and practice the core counselling skills of attunement, presence, and empathy in all program-related interpersonal interactions.
11. Respond to feedback from faculty and administrators in ways that facilitate personal growth, preserve our collaborative learning environment, and reflect the standards of the counselling profession.
12. Balance enthusiastic contributions to classroom discussion with ensuring there is sufficient space for all voices to be heard. This involves actively staying aware of the dynamics of class discussions and actively encouraging everyone's participation.
13. Commit to active course participation that contributes to one's own and others learning.
14. Embrace both positive and challenging academic learning opportunities and consider how these experiences can be applied in the service of personal and professional growth.
