TOTAL	100%

SPECIFICS OF COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

The instructor will provide grading rubrics that will provide more detail as to how this assignment will be graded.

Course Activities

Class participation through discussion is an integral part of this online course, although it is typically less formal than other work submitted throughout the course. Participation is defined as active engagement in a discussion or other online activity. To provide a structure for balanced participation and allow students to maximize the benefit of the discussion boards, it is recommended that they follow these guidelines: 1. Post responses to discussion questions in the first three days of the school week (Monday through Wednesday). 2. Post three or more thoughtful and topic-relevant comments to responses made by classmates during the last four days of the school week (Thursday through Sunday). 3. Respond to any questions that instructor or peers have regarding the original post by the end of the school week. Additionally, students are expected to attend and participate in all classroom sessions and course activities conducted during those sessions. Instructors will provide detailed grading criteria for in-class attendance and participation in classroom-based activities. The following is the grading criteria for online discussion board activities.

Components	% of Grade
Timeliness of responses	15%
Quality of responses	70%
Quantity of responses	15%
TOTAL	100%

Quizzes

Students will take weekly equally weighted online quizzes to reinforce the course materials. The quizzes will test students' ability to utilize course concepts and terminology. All quizzes are closed books and notes.

Components	% of Grade
TOTAL	100%

Movie review

Students will write a six- to seven-page, double-spaced review of the movie that deals with family related issues. In their review, students have to briefly summarize movie as well as evaluate and analyze the movie from a sociological point of view, using concepts discussed in this course. Each concept and key terms should be underlined. Additionally, students will discuss how the topics raised in the book relate to the topics in the textbook and class discussions and what they did learn from watching this movie. Student are expected to combine their own thoughtful analysis with ideas and information found in the textbook or other sources. Therefore, as in any scholarly writing, students should not merely copy information from another author, but use evidence to support the contentions they have drawn from their findings and critically analyze related literature - this paper has to be an analytical paper, not a summary of readings. This paper must meet APA requirements of format and style. Students must cite the sources of all ideas, facts, and information used that are not their own, even if they have put the information into their own words. Failure to do so is plagiarism, even if the oversight is unintentional.

Components	% of Grade
DAS-U-Analysis and use of course concepts	30%
DAS-U-Evidence and support	30%
DAS-U-Organization and coherence	20%
DAS-U-Style and mechanics	20%
TOTAL	100%

Application paper

Using the concepts covered in this course, students will write a six- to seven-page, double-spaced application paper as part of the assignments to meet the learning objectives of this course. In this application paper, students will present a social issue related to families: 1. Family policies in the United States; 2. A contemporary social controversy such as teen pregnancy, marital and non-marital lifestyles, divorce and remarriage etc.; 3. Diversity among families; 4. Division of labor inside and outside of the family; 5. Parenting, step-parenting and childcare in the United States; 6. Fertility and infertility; 7. Divorce and remarriage; 8. Families in later life; 9. Mating and dating. Students may also choose other themes or topics, but they need to get an approval from the instructor. In their papers, students should combine their own thoughtful analysis with ideas and information found in a minimum of three sources. Therefore, as in any scholarly writing, students should not merely copy information from another author, but use evidence to support the contentions they have drawn from their findings and critically analyze related literature - this paper has to be an analytical paper, not a summary of readings. This paper must meet APA requirements of format and style. Family Reflection Paper

Using theories and concepts covered in this course, students will prepare a eight- to ten-page, double-spaced paper that reflects on the family that they are familiar with. This paper needs to include the following:

1. Presentation of the family;
2. History of the family;
3. Various aspects of diversity within this family;
4. Roles and responsibilities of family members;
5. Professional careers, work, and division of labor within this family;
6. Parenthood and taking care of family members;
7. Future of this family – challenges, hopes and fears.

In their papers, students should combine their own thoughtful analysis with ideas and information found in a minimum of six sources. Therefore, as in any scholarly writing, students should not merely copy information from another author, but use evidence to support the contentions they have drawn from their findings and critically analyze related literature - this paper has to be an analytical paper, not a summary of readings. This paper must meet APA requirements of format and style. PARTICIPATION

Professional Writing

Assignments require error-free writing that uses standard English conventions and logical flow of organization to address topics clearly, completely, and concisely. CityU requires the use of APA style.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

You are responsible for understanding and adhering to all of City University of Seattle's academic policies. The most current versions of these policies can be found in the University Catalog that is linked from the CityU Web site.

Antidiscrimination

City University of Seattle and its staff and faculty are committed to supporting our students. We value equity, diversity, and inclusion as a way of life as well as the educational opportunities it provides. City U will not tolerate any form of discrimination based on race, color, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identification, socioeconomic status, or religious values. If you have experienced any discrimination based on any of the above, we encourage you to report this to the University. Please report this to your instructor. If you do not feel safe reporting this to your instructor, please report to Dr. Scott Carnz, Provost or to the Vice President of Student Affairs, Melissa Mecham.

Non-Discrimination & Prohibition of Sexual Misconduct

City University of Seattle adheres to all federal, state, and local civil rights laws prohibiting discrimination in employment and education. The University is committed to ensuring that the education environment is bounded by standards of mutual respect and safety and is free from discriminatory practices.

In the U.S., the University is required by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 to ensure that all of its education programs and activities do not discriminate on the basis of sex/gender. Sex include sex, sex stereotypes, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, and pregnancy or parenting status. Sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating and domestic violence, and stalking are forms of sex discrimination, which are prohibited under Title IX and by City University of Seattle policy. City University of Seattle also prohibits retaliation against any person opposing discrimination or participating in any discrimination investigation or complaint process internal or external to the institution. Questions regarding Title IX, including its application and/or concerns about noncompliance, should be directed to the Title IX Coordinator. For a complete copy of the policy or for more information, visit <https://my.cityu.edu/titleix> or contact the Title IX Coordinator.

In Canada, in compliance with the British Columbia Human Rights Code, the Alberta Human Rights Act, WorksafeBC, and the Workers' Compensation Board of Alberta, the University believes that its environment should at all times be supportive and respectful of the dignity and self-esteem of individuals. Discrimination, harassment and bullying conduct, whether through person to person behaviour or via electronic communications such as email or social media is not acceptable and will not be tolerated. As an educational institution, it is our responsibility to cultivate an environment of excellence, equity, mutual respect and to recognize the value and potential of every individual. The University will take all necessary steps to meet or exceed the requirements of the law to prevent discrimination, harassment and bullying. The Respectful Workplace Policy for the prevention of discrimination, harassment and bullying policy and procedure can be found at <https://www.cityu.edu/discover-cityu/about-cityu/> under the Policies section or at <https://www.cityuniversity.ca/about/>.

Religious Accommodations

City University of Seattle has a policy for accommodation of student absences or significant hardship due to reasons of faith or conscience, or for organized religious activities. The University's policy, including more information about how to request an accommodation, is available in the University Catalog and on the my.cityu.edu student portal. Accommodations must be requested by the 20% mark of this course (e.g. day 14 of a ten-week course, day 7 of a 5-week course) using the Religious Accommodations Request Form found on the student dashboard in the my.cityu.edu student portal.

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity in students requires the pursuit of scholarly activity that is free from fraud, deception and unauthorized collaboration with other individuals. Students are responsible for understanding CityU's policy on academic integrity and adhering to its standards in meeting all course requirements. A complete copy of this policy can be found in the University Catalog in the section titled Academic Integrity Policy under Student Rights & Responsibilities.

Attendance

Students taking courses in any format at the University are expected to be diligent in their studies and to attend class regularly. Regular class attendance is important in achieving learning outcomes in the course and may be a valid consideration in determining the final grade. For classes where a physical presence is required, a student has attended if they are present at any time during the class session. For online classes, a student has attended if they have posted or submitted an assignment. A complete copy of this policy can be found in the University Catalog in the section titled Attendance under Student Rights & Responsibilities.

Final Assignments Due Date

Final assignments for each class at CityU must be due on or before the final date of the course as indicated in the university's course information system. Due dates that extend beyond the final date of the course may negatively impact tuition funding for students.

SUPPORT SERVICES

Disability Services Accommodations Statement

Students with documented disability who wish to request academic accommodations are encouraged to contact Disability Support Services to discuss accommodation requests and eligibility requirements. Please contact Disability Support Services at disability@cityu.edu or 206.2369.4752 or visit the Disability Support Services page in the my.cityu.edu portal. Confidentiality will be observed in all inquiries. Once approved, information about academic accommodations will be shared with your course instructors.

Library Services
